Come see differently by engaging with historical materials, challenging your preconceived ideas of books, and listening to a century of sound. In this whirlwind 60-minute tour of the FAU Libraries Distinctive Collections Division, you'll be introduced to rare books from the Weiner Collection, artists' books from Jaffe Center for Books Arts (JCBA), and vintage music from the Recorded Sound Archives (RSA). You'll never look at books or records the same way again. Your tour guides are John Cutrone, Director of JCBA, Alethea Perez, Manager for RSA, and Victoria Thur, Assistant Dean for Research & Distinctive Collections Division.
